WHY STUDY AT WESTERN SYDNEY?

STUDY IN SYDNEY

A thriving metropolis of almost five million people with a third of its population born overseas, Sydney is one of the most multicultural cities in the world.

Sydney is also the destination of choice for international corporations, business leaders, tourists and students.

BUSINESS

As Australia's business capital, Sydney is where you'll find the head offices of more multinational companies and banks than anywhere else in the country, and as a modern, metropolitan city, it's the gateway to the Asia Pacific and an ideal place to do business. Fresh, reasonably-priced, locally-grown produce, meat and seafood is also available year round from grocers and markets.

CULTURE

If you love shopping, you'll find Australian designers and global fashion brands in boutiques, large shopping malls or at street markets across the city. You also won't want to miss the year-round art, music, food, theatre, film and design festivals that put Sydney on the world cultural map.

CLIMATE

Sydney's climate is comfortable and temperate year round; summer is from December to February, while autumn is March to May, winter June to August, and spring September to November. Generally, January and February are warm, while winters are mild.

LIVING IN WESTERN SYDNEY

The Greater Western Sydney region is Western Sydney University's home. The region encompasses the area northwest, southwest and west of Sydney and is Australia's third-largest regional economy. With a population of more than two million people from 170 countries, it is a thriving centre of opportunity, diversity and innovation that welcomes international students.

BUSINESS

Many multinational corporations have operations in Western Sydney, including BHP Billiton, Coca-Cola Amatil, Sony, PricewaterhouseCoopers, Deloitte, and Canon, making it a hub of business development. Because of the University's strong ties to local business, industry and community leadership, our students can access many study, internship, work and volunteer opportunities here. Read more on page 10.

HISTORY

The Greater Western Sydney region was originally inhabited by several Indigenous nations including the Bidiagal and Darug people. Radiocarbon dating shows human activity in the area 30,000 years ago. It is also steeped in colonial history - European settlers arrived here just ten months after landing at what is now the Rocks in the heart of Sydney in 1788.

Old Government House in Parramatta was the 'country' home of ten NSW governors in the first half-century of European settlement in Australia. The World Heritage listed site in Parramatta Park, built between 1799 and 1816, contains furniture and treasures from the 19th century and is open to the public.

THE OUTDOORS

With nature close at hand, including national parks, abundant parklands, the Parramatta, Nepean and Hawkesbury Rivers, Western Sydney is ideal for outdoor and sports enthusiasts. It's easy to find a place to jog, walk, cycle, row, kayak or swim, or enjoy a peaceful picnic, barbecue or friendly game of cricket, soccer or Frisbee with friends.

The region is also close to the World Heritage-listed Blue Mountains, where you can go bushwalking, canyoning, camping, rock climbing and horse riding against the dramatic backdrop of rainforests, mountains, valleys and waterfalls.

SPORT, SHOPPING AND FOOD

Western Sydney also boasts some successful football, rugby league, cricket and Australian Football League teams if you want to watch a game or join a community sporting team yourself.

The nearby Sydney Olympic Park at Homebush, site of the 2000 Olympics, offers aquatic and archery centres and cycle tracks open to the public. The park's ANZ stadium and other venues host national and international football, hockey, basketball and tennis tournaments and athletics events, as well as major contemporary music concerts.

Across Western Sydney, if you are keen on shopping, you'll discover a wide selection of department stores, cinemas, restaurants, cafes, local markets and specialty stores. You can explore major retail centres, including Westfield Parramatta, one of Australia's largest shopping centres. And with the region's rich multicultural population, you'll find the flavours, foods and spices you're accustomed to at home – or why not be adventurous and sample some new cuisines?

CULTURE

Living in Western Sydney, you'll also have the opportunity to take part in festivals, such as Lunar New Year celebrations and other cultural events, including the annual Sydney Festival Parramatta which has a packed program stretching over ten days.

SAFETY IN AUSTRALIA

Australia is a very safe country compared with other parts of the world. When you arrive in Australia you will find the majority of people open and friendly with a tell-it-like-it-is approach to life.

studyinaustralia.gov.au/global/live-in-australia/health-and-safety

WORKING IN AUSTRALIA

As an international student, you may work up to 40 hours per fortnight during each study session (semester) and unlimited hours when your course is not in session.

Permission to work will automatically be included in your student visa. Although you are able to work in Australia, you cannot rely on that income to fund your tuition fees or living costs for the duration of your stay in Australia.

Many international students choose to work part-time during their studies, but it is unrealistic to expect that you will find part-time work as soon as you begin looking for it. You will first need to become familiar with the city and the areas where part-time employment is available. It is also important to understand your study obligations before you commit yourself to part-time work.

westernsydney.edu.au/accommodation

UNDER 18 – ACCOMMODATION

All students under 18 years of age are required to live:

- a) with a relative or a legal custodian over 21 years who will be approved by the Australian Government Department of Home Affairs, or
- b) under an accommodation and welfare arrangement approved by the University.

Where a student chooses option b) above, i.e. a University approved accommodation and welfare arrangement, the University will be responsible for issuing a Confirmation of Appropriate Accommodation and Welfare (CAAW).

Further information about welfare arrangements for under 18s is available at homeaffairs.gov.au/trav/stud/more/welfare-arrangements-under18

Accommodation arrangements approved by the University

To enable the University to issue a Confirmation of Appropriate Accommodation and Welfare (CAAW), the student must reside with a homestay family arranged by one of Western Sydney University's approved Homestay Providers:

- Global Experience
- Homestay Network

The parent/guardian must provide evidence to the University that they have entered into an accommodation agreement with the homestay provider which sets out the specific accommodation arrangements to be provided to the student for the duration of the agreement, before a CAAW will be issued. The accommodation agreement must begin no later than the commencement date shown on the student's Confirmation of Enrolment, and remain in place for the duration of the student's enrolment plus seven days, or until the student turns 18 years of age, whichever occurs sooner.

westernsydney.edu.au/under_18_admission

LIVING COSTS

As a student visa holder, you will be required to have approximately AUD$20,290 per person per year for living expenses, as advised by the Australian Government. However, the actual cost depends on your individual lifestyle and you should budget for approximately $26,000 per year per adult. Christine Yujian Tang

CHINA

MASTER OF CREATIVE INDUSTRIES

Christine was lucky to intern at SBS television and radio, Australia's multicultural broadcaster, during her Master of Creative Industries degree. During her time at SBS, Yujian worked across many radio and television departments, attended media conferences, subtitled footage and spent time in the studio control room.

'Not only did I get a feeling of what the industry, the media, the news and journalism is like, I got a taste of what that operating system is like – how to present in front of an audience and how to film it. Western Sydney University offered a more practical degree than other universities, including the opportunity for an internship.

The small class sizes were great. I got to participate in the discussion more and the professor had more time to focus on students one on one. All my units were taught in the Parramatta City campus, it's a very high-tech building, and the location is very convenient for me to get to classes. I had so much fun in those team projects, and I made friendship and connections that will last forever during my study here.'

INTERNATIONAL ALUMNI LEADERSHIP AWARD WINNER

Professor Syed (Zia) Ziaur Rahman
Doctor of Philosophy - Medicine,

With Professor Syed Ziaur Rahman's family background, his destiny always lay in human health.

Professor Rahman is a scion of one of the great Unani physician families, with roots dating to the twelfth century. His family are the custodians of many medical manuscripts from as long ago as the tenth century. Among these are extremely rare editions.

His family helped found the practice of Unani in India where it became, along with Ayurveda, one of the twin pillars of traditional medicine practiced across the subcontinent for centuries, and remains widely used to this day.

Professor Rahman has an illustrious research and teaching career in pharmacology. His global impact includes pioneering work to eliminate animal exploitation in medical teaching, exploring the contemporary potential of traditional medicine, and founding a new field of research into the environmental impacts of pharmacology. Professor Rahman was awarded a PhD in Medicine from Western in 2015.

He is a difficult man to catch between planes, countries and engagements. An email Q&A came back from somewhere in the world and is as illuminating as his work.

Q: Can you take us back to your childhood and first awareness of the significance of your family in Unani medicine?

A: I vividly remember the Unani polyclinic being run from our house in Aligarh city. My grandfather used to involve me in preparation of medicines, especially different oils and tablets. When my grandfather developed a tremor and difficulty in writing, he dictated letters for his patients to me. In this way, I learned basic concepts of Unani medicine. Because of this experience, I took Pharmacology as my main subject.

Q: Could you explain Unani?

A: Unani is founded on the basis of four humours: Black bile, Yellow bile, Phlegm and Sanguine. Unani medicine promotes six essential factors that are considered responsible for maintenance or bringing about changes in the body. There are six essential factors: Ambient air, Food and drink, Sleep and wakefulness, Excretion and retention, Rest and activity of body, and Psychological activity.

Q: What is your view of 'Big Pharma'?

A: Ah... it's a great question and needs long debate. Big Pharma, in my view, is a business, and sometimes operates for sinister purposes and against public interest. It also includes 'Lifestyle Drugs' that are applied to medications which treat non-existent diseases, non-life-threatening and non-painful conditions such as baldness, wrinkles, acne etc. These are not medical problems at all but intentionally medicalised for pharma gain.

RESEARCH IMPACT

As a research-led institution,
Western Sydney University sees learning and research as connected aspects of the student experience.

EXCELLENCE IN RESEARCH (ERA)

ERA is a national evaluation of research quality in Australian universities conducted by the Australian Government and administered by the Australian Research Council (ARC). The ERA initiative is aimed at evaluating excellence in all areas of research within the Australian higher education sector.

It seeks to assess research quality using a combination of indicators and expert review by committees comprising experienced, internationally-recognised experts. Eleven of the University's disciplines were given the highest possible rating of five, denoting the quality of the research as being well above world standard. 80 per cent of the University's Fields of Research were assessed as being at, above or well above world standard.

RESEARCH RATING AND AREAS

Well above world standard

Materials Engineering, Complementary and Alternative Medicine, Applied Mathematics, Ecological Applications, Soil Sciences, Ecology, Plant Biology, Forestry Sciences, Oncology and Carcinogenesis, Pharmacology and Pharmaceutical Sciences, Cultural Studies.

RESEARCH

RESEARCH INCOME

Our research doesn't just happen in the lab. We work with regional, national and international partners to deliver research outcomes that contribute to the economic, social and environmental wellbeing of their communities.

URBAN LIVING AND SOCIETY

People, Culture, Economy, and Built Environment

Research within this theme is focused on understanding and guiding change: in the economy, in society and in culture. Our researchers approach change through the lens of urban living, seeking to understand how the places we live, the work we do, the way we describe ourselves and the bonds we form interrelate. These relationships determine our shared quality of life and physical health, and our research is aimed at ways to improve both.

HEALTH AND WELLBEING

Translation, Service and Innovation

Research within this theme explores how health initiatives can prevent disease and illness, encourage healthy lifestyles in individuals and communities, and reduce the cost and impact of illness. We take an integrated approach to health research. The environments in which we live, the cultural background from which we come, and the work we do all affect our physical and mental health.

EDUCATION

Access, Equity, Pathways and Aspirational Change

Research within our Education and Aspirational Change: access, equity and pathways theme draws on the population diversity of Western Sydney to underpin research that explores educational access on a global scale. This research theme supports individuals and communities in achieving their economic, social and cultural aspirations through education.

ENVIRONMENTAL SUSTAINABILITY

Climate, Agriculture and Resources

Research within our Environmental Sustainability theme is broad, practical and interdisciplinary, and is focused on maintaining and managing the diversity of urban, agricultural and natural systems. The use and production of recycled materials, urban green cover and public health, small business attitudes towards climate change – these are some of the ways in which the University's researchers are engaging with environmental sustainability across disciplinary boundaries.

GRADUATE STUDENT IN UNIVERSITY FOUNDATION STUDIES: HEALTH SCIENCE & NURSING

CURRENTLY AT WESTERN SYDNEY UNIVERSITY STUDYING BACHELOR OF NURSING

'I started studying at Western Sydney University International College when I was 17, having completed year 10 in the Philippines. My aunt and uncle live in Western Sydney and it was important to my parents and me that I study and live close to them. The International College taught me to manage my time effectively and understand my priorities, so I could achieve the best results. I learnt that participating during tutorials and asking questions is really important too.'

University Foundation Studies to Bachelor degree articulation requirements

At the completion of each term of the University Foundation Studies program, students will receive a number called a Grade Point Average (GPA). The highest GPA attainable is 10. Academic English For Tertiary Studies (CRICOS Code 082069M)

Academic English for Tertiary Studies has been specifically designed to develop English as a second language (ESL) students' English proficiency to enable them to communicate confidently, express ideas effectively and achieve rhetorical competence so that they attain a level of language proficiency corresponding to the standard required for entry to Australian tertiary educational institutions.

This course has five modules, English for Academic Purposes (EAP) 1 to 5, catering for Pre-Intermediate to Advanced English level students. Each module consists of 10 weeks and includes 20 hours per week of face-to-face teaching.

- EAP 1 – This course provides a bridge between general English skills and academic skills in reading, listening, speaking and writing. During the course, students will concentrate on basic grammar and sentence structure, leading to more complex texts.
- EAP 2 – EAP 2 provides students with a foundation in academic writing, reading, listening and speaking skills through general coursework, oral presentations, factual reports and regular assignments.
- EAP 3 – This level consolidates students' understanding of a range of academic texts and builds on the skills developed in the EAP 2 course.
- EAP 4 – EAP 4 extends students' proficiency in academic English with opportunities to strengthen their language and critical literacy skills in preparation for tertiary study.
- EAP 5 – EAP 5 allows students to further develop their language skills in academic writing, reading, listening and speaking to a competent level. It is excellent preparation for the university environment. Students who successfully complete EAP 5 do not need to take any further English language tests to gain entry to their study at Western Sydney University.

Dibya Shree Chhetry, Nepal

MASTER OF SOCIAL WORK
(QUALIFYING)

‘We’ve been trying our best to support the new students, to help them feel comfortable and happy in Australia and still speak their language and talk about ‘home’, she says. The club has participated in many cultural events not only on campus and with other universities but also in community events like the celebration of Harmony Day.

As a Master of Social Work (Qualifying) student, Dibya undertook 1,000 hours of work placement during her degree – she worked in a family support and community centre. ‘I learned the skills of interviewing a client and it was really fruitful for me to get the chance to understand what a social worker really does in practice,’ she says. She also got an opportunity to work as a research assistant at the University soon after completing her degree.

Dibya excelled in her degree and made the Dean’s Merit List and also won the Natalie Bolzan Master of Social Work (Q) Prize.
